A woman is lying on her back on a carpeted floor, holding a large, wrapped gift box above her head with both hands. She is wearing a light blue long-sleeved shirt and dark pants. Her expression is one of distress or pain, with her eyes closed and her mouth slightly open. To her left is a Christmas tree decorated with lights and ornaments. To her right is a wooden chair. The scene is dimly lit, with the primary light source being the Christmas tree lights.
