

A person is walking away from the camera down a hallway with light-colored wooden floors. Several dark, muddy paw prints are visible on the floor, leading from the person's feet towards the foreground. In the foreground, a white towel with a fringed edge is laid out on the floor, also showing several paw prints. To the left is a wooden bench. To the right is a wicker basket filled with various tools or sticks. The walls are light green with white trim.
